Preconstruction.info is here to help you in finding a property, whether that is a future home for you or an investment property. Our site allows for easy access to assist in finding projects which have been filtered down by preferences selected by you, the customer. The goal is to make this interface simple enough in order find the projects that suit your needs. Covering the Greater Toronto Area is a huge task and we will continue to update and add projects daily to ensure that clients receive up to date material.
